

I am not only
outraged but deeply
concerned about the
precedent set by
Sinclair
Broadcasting's
intention to force
their stations to
air an anti-Kerry
documentary days
before the election.
This clearly
represents the worst
of big business,
particularly
dominating
conglomerates that
overpower the good faith of ordinary
people.

Why is it
permissible for Sinclair to utilize
the public airwaves
free of charge? Are
the airwaves not
sacrosanct, meant to serve the public? To declare the proposed
pre-emption a news
event is ludicrous;
it is clearly slam
against the
democratic candidate
and no more
bipartisan than Fox
News.

The American people
are not all stupid
sheep. Just because
a CEO claims not to have ties to a given
candidate, doesn't
mean it's true.
Power is the name of
the game, not truth,
not integrity, not
humility.

When large companies
control the
airwaves, the people
see what's best for
deep pockets not
what's best for the people. A documentary on such insidious corporate
practices would
better serve the public than a 2-hour
advertisement for
the Bush campaign.

And how much money
have Sinclair
interests
contributed to the GOP?

Please help
safeguard the
airwaves your
organization is
commissioned to
monitor and protect.
Please use your influence to call Sinclair on its mistake and at least
question its
partisan ties.

I appreciate your attention to this
grave matter.
